Re: NAVFAC SW Procurement Strategy – N6247319R3001: Environmental Multiple Award Contract for Remediation of Various Radiological Contaminants at Various Navy and Marine Corps Installations in the NAVFAC SW and NAVFAC LANT AOR, RADMAC III

Dear: Ms. Leu:

The members of the Small Environmental Business Action Coalition (www.SEBAC.org) wish to introduce ourselves and express our concerns regarding the above referenced procurement. Nationally SEBAC represents the majority by market share of environmental remediation businesses under the NAICS code 562910.

SEBAC offers a combined industry voice for small businesses many of which are fully capable of meeting the Navy's requirements for this procurement. The Navy has historically and is currently contracting with the small and small disadvantaged business community to support cleanup efforts including work under numerous NAVFAC similar IDIQ contracts in for Pacific, Southwest and Atlantic s. Further our members and other Small Business 562910 firms hold some of the largest by dollar value radiological remediation contract for the US Army Corps of Engineers and the Department of Energy. Applying the Rule of Two to this planned acquisition would clearly show a number of highly capable firms within the SB community to support the subject solicitation.

SEBAC is asking that the SBA weigh in on the Navy's deliberations relative to this procurement strategy, as this contract is ideally suited for a total Small Business Set-Aside under the SBA Rule of Two. A review of the Federal Procurement Data System (FPDS) NextGen, of recent and ongoing US Army Corps of Engineers, Department of Energy and NAVFAC contract awards and task orders issued under these contracts will demonstrate a capable pool of contractors to support this effort.

Thank you for your consideration to make the RADMAC III a total Small Business Set Aside. Please do not hesitate to contact the undersigned if I can provide any additional information on SEBAC and our members.

Sincerely,
